Texas Skills Development Fund	https://wc.texas.gov/partners/skills-development-fund	The Skills Development Fund is Texas' premier job-training program providing local customized training opportunities for Texas businesses and workers to increase skill levels and wages of the Texas workforce. The Texas Workforce Commission administers funding for the program. Success is achieved through collaboration among businesses, public community and technical colleges, Workforce Development Boards and economic development partners. The Skills Development Fund program assists businesses and trade unions by financing the design and implementation of customized job-training projects. A business, consortium of businesses, or trade union identifies a training need, and then partners with a public community or technical college to fill its specific needs. Businesses work with college partners to submit proposals, develop curricula and conduct training. The Skills Development Fund pays for the training, the college administers the grant, and businesses create new jobs and improve the skills of their current workers. Grants for a single business may be limited to $500,000, and can be applied toward tuition, curriculum development, instructor fees and training materials. Grant funds may not be used to pay for trainee wages, drug testing, travel costs and certain equipment purchases.	Texas Workforce Commission	For Fiscal Years 2018-2019, the Texas Workforce Commission provides access to $48 million in training dollars to support high-quality customized training projects statewide.	TWC accepts project proposal submissions throughout the year with each grant typically lasting 12 months.
Texas Skills for Small Business Fund	https://wc.texas.gov/businesses/skills-small-business-employers	Through the Texas Workforce Commission (TWC) Skills for Small Business program, up to $2 million from the Skills Development Fund is dedicated to the backbone of Texas' business community—our small employers. Small businesses can apply to TWC for training offered by their local community or technical college, or the Texas A&M Engineering Extension Service (TEEX). TWC processes the applications and works with the college to fund the specific courses selected by businesses for their employees. This exceptional opportunity supports businesses with fewer than 100 employees, and emphasizes training for new workers though it also may help upgrade the skills of incumbent workers. The program pays up to $1,800 for each new employee being trained and $900 for existing employees per 12-month period. Funding for training is for full-time employees. Training is not based on a fiscal year, but rather on a 12-month period.
